Dr. Chipty is an expert in industrial organization, antitrust economics, and econometrics. Her practice spans both the areas of antitrust litigation and mergers and acquisitions, in a broad array of sectors including: agricultural equipment; airlines; broadcast and satellite radio; cable and satellite television; credit cards; containerized shipping; healthcare; modem chips; newspapers; pharmaceuticals; telecommunications; and tobacco. Her work has been influential both internationally and domestically. She has assisted the U.S. Department of Justice on several investigations and merger reviews, including the federal lawsuit challenging Atrium Health's use of anti-steering restrictions in contracts with health plans. She has assisted the Government of Australia at the World Trade Organization in disputes surrounding Australia's national tobacco control policy. She was Comcast's antitrust damages expert in Behrend et al. vs. Comcast—a U.S. Supreme Court case in which the Court decertified the class because of deficiencies in the plaintiffs' damages model. She was one of Qualcomm's antitrust experts in a series of lawsuits challenging Qualcomm's licensing practices. She assisted the parties in the CenturyLink's acquisition of Level 3. Currently, she is an antitrust expert in one of several lawsuits against Sutter Healthcare, challenging Sutter's use of anti-steering provisions in contracts with health plans. Dr. Chipty has submitted testimony, been deposed, and testified at trial in several litigation matters. She has appeared before the Federal Trade Commission, the Department of Justice, the World Trade Organization, the Canadian Mergers Bureau, the U.S. Copyright Board, and the Canadian Copyright Board. She is the editor of the current edition of the American Bar Association's book Proving Antitrust Damages. She has published research on the strategic use of vertical integration, the role of firm size and network effects on bilateral business negotiations, and the effects of regulations on firm behavior.

Prior to founding Matrix Economics, Dr. Chipty was a Managing Principal at Analysis Group, and before that a Vice President at Charles River Associates. She has served on the faculties of the Ohio State University, Brandeis University, and MIT, where she taught courses in antitrust and regulation, industrial organization, and econometrics. Dr. Chipty received her Ph.D. in economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and her undergraduate degree in economics and mathematics from Wellesley College.

- Advised XM Satellite Radio on reasonable fees for music performance rights for business negotiations. Shaw Pittman LLP (Cynthia Greer).

ECONOMETRICS AND STATISTICS

Dr. Chipty is an expert in the area of statistics and econometrics and has been successful at using econometric arguments both to construct affirmative arguments in litigation as well as to evaluate the use of econometrics by opposing experts. Many of the projects described above used econometric analysis. Other examples of Dr. Chipty's work in this area are described below:

- Submitted a white paper to the European Commission, DG Competition Bureau, on behalf of the European Liner Affairs Association, analyzing the impact of shipping conferences on carriers' ability to collude on prices (joint with Professor Fiona Scott Morton and Mr. Nils Von Hinten-Reed).
- Developed analyses and drafted a report on behalf of defendants in the In Re: Monosodium Glutamate Litigation in support of a defendants' motion to dismiss plaintiff's expert testimony based upon improper use of econometrics. Dorsey & Whitney LLP (Michael Lindsay) and Haynes & Boone LLP (Ronald Breaux).
- Used advanced statistical techniques along with a large volume of administrative data, on behalf of United Parcel Service, to evaluate the Postal Service's expert testimony on variable costs. Piper & Marbury LLP (John McKeever).
- Evaluated and criticized the econometric testimony of a defendants' expert, on behalf of a generic pharmaceuticals firm alleging vertical foreclosure and unlawful delay of entry. Solomon Zauderer (Colin Underwood).

TRISTATE RESEARCH PARTNERSHIP

Dr. Chipty was a member of the research team from 1997-1999 in this Department of Health and Human Resources funded collaboration that included the states of Massachusetts, Alabama, and Florida. Dr. Chipty worked with state governments to design research experiments, develop econometric models, and process large administrative databases, in an effort to understand the structure, administration, and impact of minimum standards regulations.
